

Freaky Furniture
By Ewout van Gelder

About me

In 2020, Ewout decided to change course and pursue his passion. And so the Freaky Furniture brand was born. Ewout started this brand with two main reasons:

Saving valuable materials. We live in a consumer society and we also prefer to have the interior new every few years, which means that very valuable products are thrown away that no longer fall into the current trend or, because we are "just" ready for something new. Ewout tries to give these beautiful materials a new life. Making timeless furniture.

Ewout wants to make unique and timeless furniture that the customer can enjoy for the rest of his life. He does this by delivering high quality and listening carefully to the wishes of the customer. Each table is completely unique. One of the elements that make the tables so unique are the glow in the dark images. These images are milled at least 3mm deep and then cast in with glow in the dark epoxy. The milled image of at least 3mm deep ensures that the tables can still be treated often and will therefore last a long time. After the casting process, the table is put in an environmentally friendly hard wax that contributes to the durability of the tables.

The tables absorb both sunlight and artificial light throughout the day. At night, this stored light is emitted again, which creates a magical glow in the dark effect. Other projects Ewout would like to implement his design skills on a large scale for companies or events, for example. If you would like to collaborate with Ewout for other projects, please do not hesitate to contact him.

Walnut wood is a beautiful type of wood that gives a luxurious look to your living environment. The top of this dining table is made of high-quality walnut wood and therefore has a long lifespan. The base of the table is made of high quality stainless steel.

The tiger is carved into the walnut wood table and then filled with glow in the dark blue epoxy. The glow-in-the-dark tiger has a cobalt blue glow that will glow all night with minimal exposure to sunlight, artificial light, or blacklight.

The Dining Mandala is a piece of furniture that really makes a statement. Perfect for a modern look to your home and adding a surprising element.

The top of this dining table is inspired by Aztec geometric shapes. For those with a keen eye for detail, there is even a face in the center of the table. This adds to the mystique of this dining table.

The Aztec shapes are filled with glow in the dark epoxy. The glow in the dark effect of this epoxy will not diminish with age and the tables will light up for hours with minimal artificial light or sunlight. This modern table has a stainless steel base with a rosewood top. The materials used for this table last a long time and are obtained in an environmentally friendly way.

Galaxy Chessboard

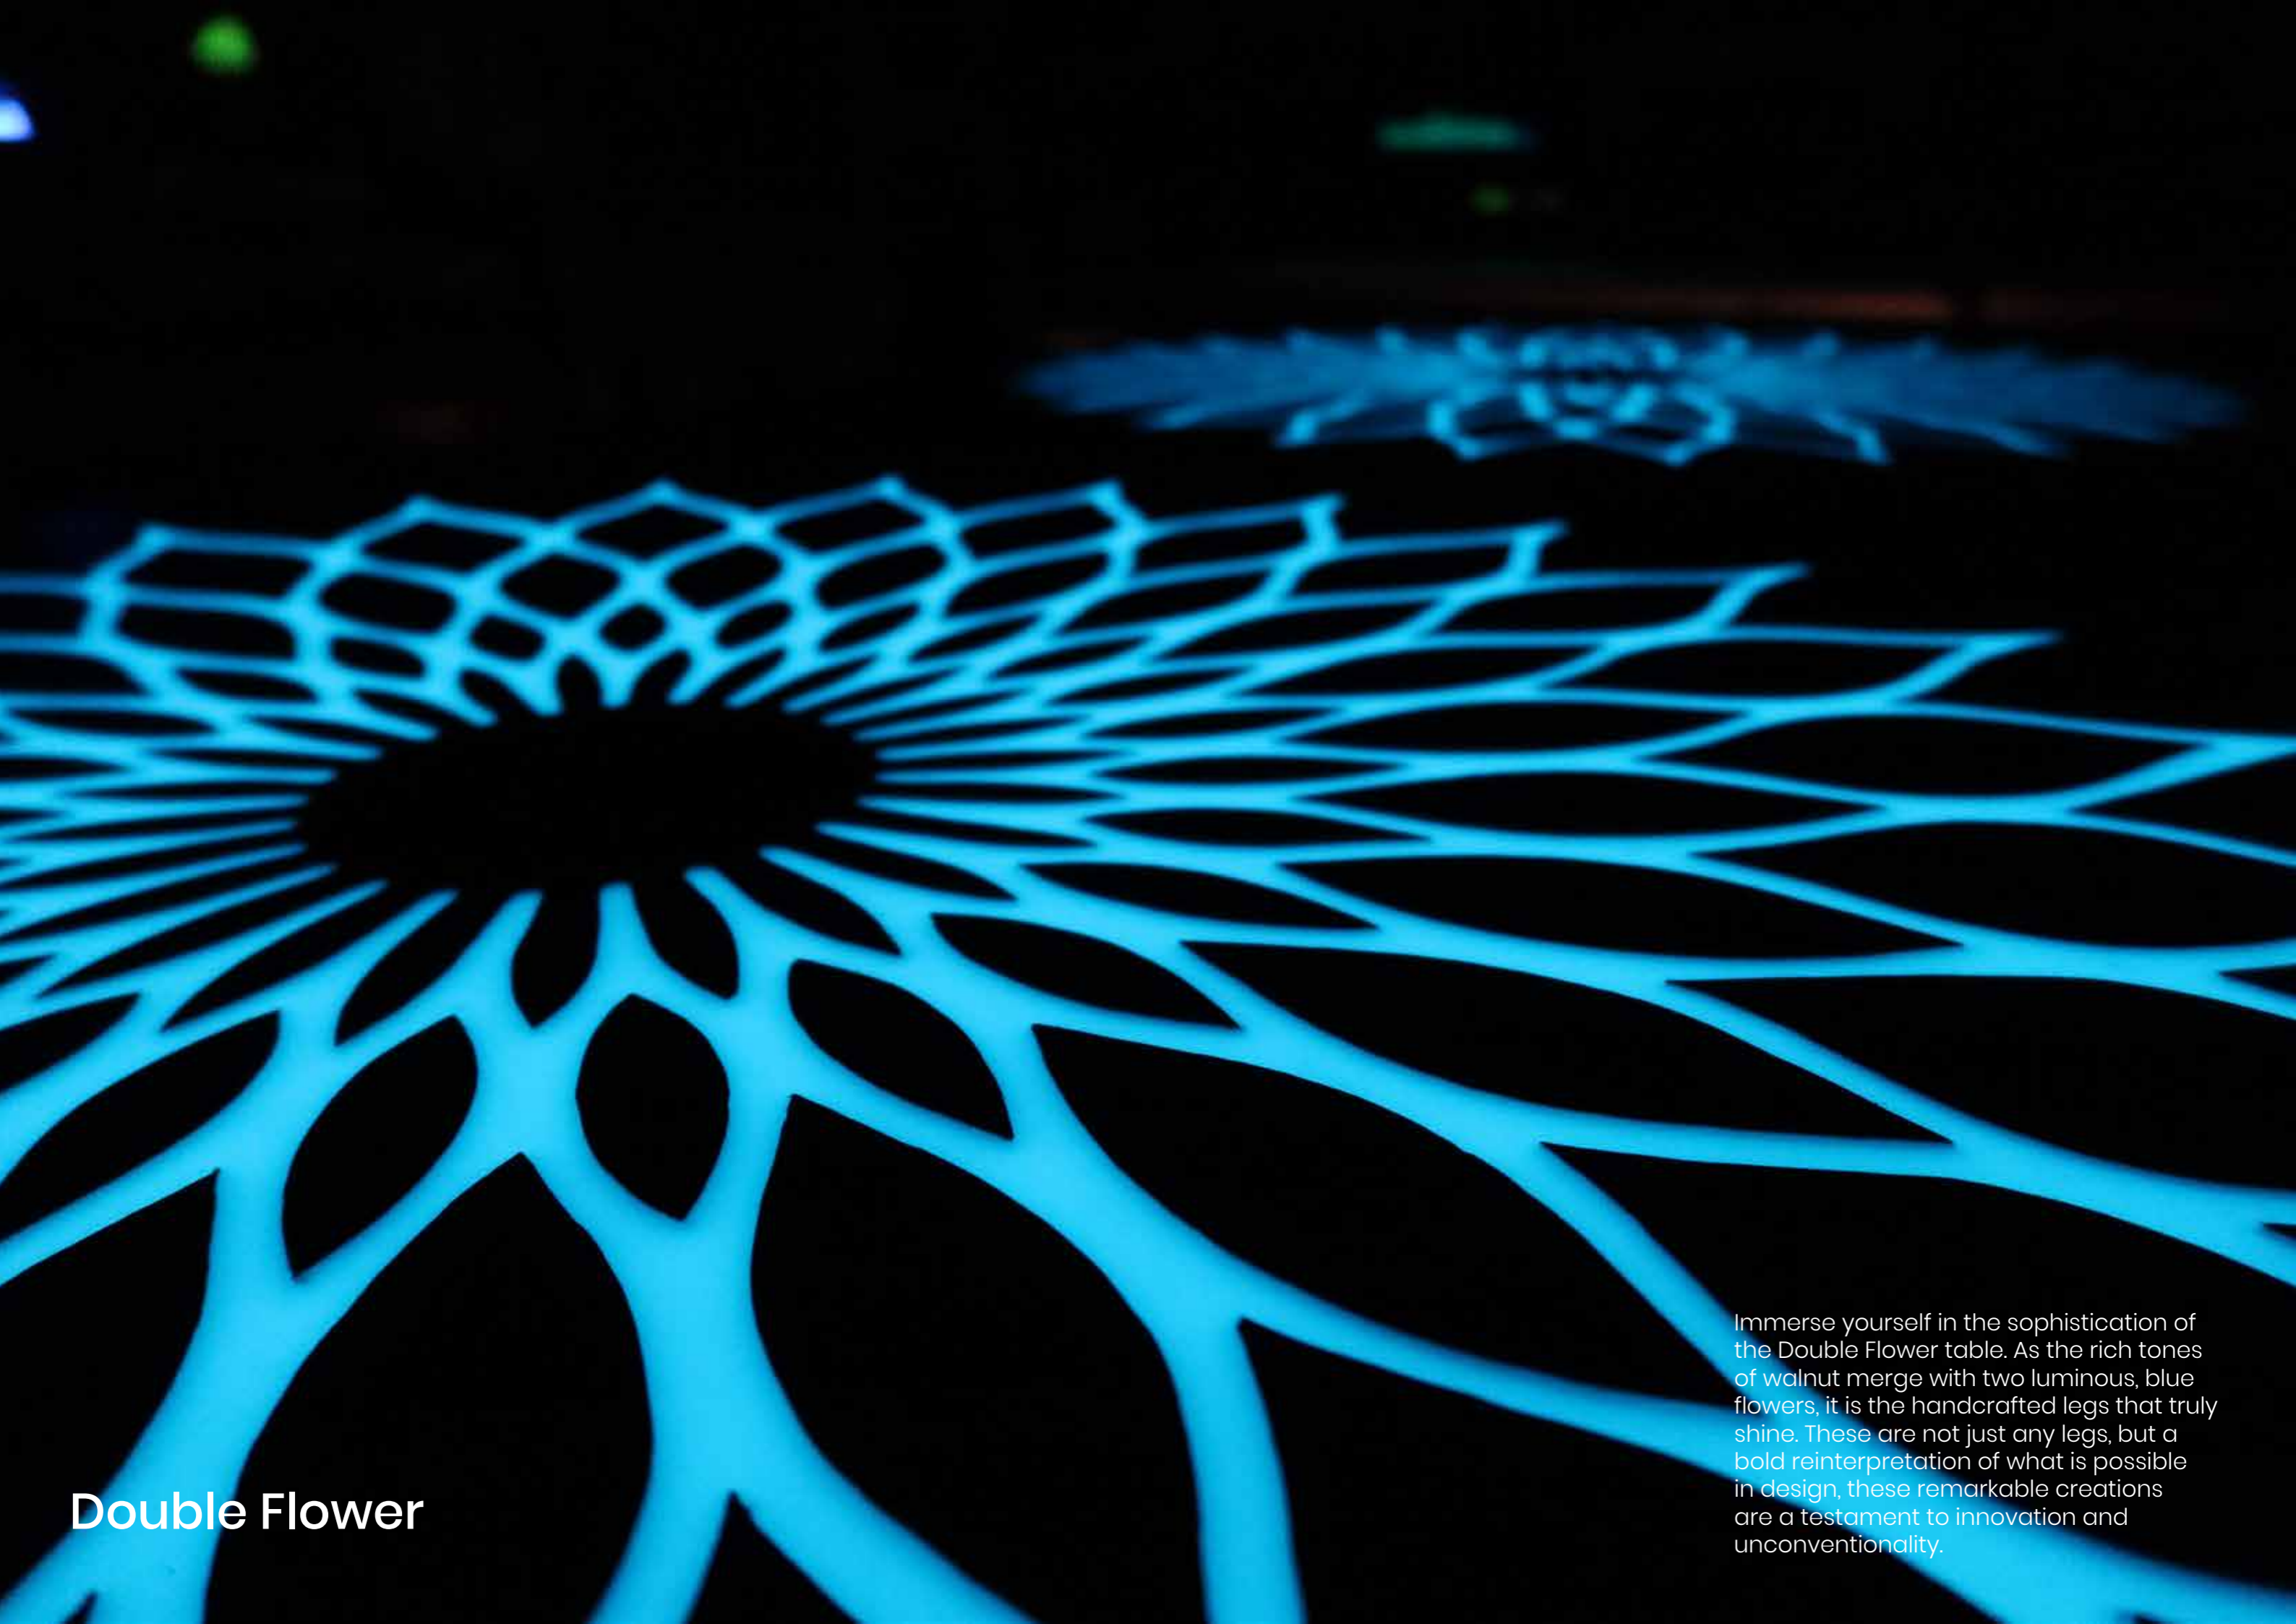

Glowy Old Wood is perhaps one of the most surprising tables in our collection. When the light is on it looks like a beautiful vintage coffee table, but as soon as the light goes out you will be enchanted by the bright green glow that radiates from the table. The glow in the dark epoxy is processed between the grains of the wood, which creates a unique natural effect. The table is made of sustainable oak wood, which ensures that the table lasts a long time.

Double Flower

Immerse yourself in the sophistication of the Double Flower table. As the rich tones of walnut merge with two luminous, blue flowers, it is the handcrafted legs that truly shine. These are not just any legs, but a bold reinterpretation of what is possible in design, these remarkable creations are a testament to innovation and unconventionality.

Take a step back in time with this vintage design coffee table. We've given the table a complete makeover and added a glow in the dark effect to give it that extra bit of flair. The table is made of oak and has a vortex pattern on the top. The pattern is carved into the oak table and then filled with glow in the dark cobalt blue epoxy. The glow-in-the-dark pattern has a blue glow that will glow all night with minimal exposure to sunlight, artificial light or blacklight.
